Early History of ACI-WI Chapter

The Wisconsin Chapter of the American Concrete Institute began with a series of informal meetings held in the conference room of City of Milwaukee Materials Testing Laboratory, 3811 W, Lincoln Avenue, during the spring and summer of 1974. The attendance at each session varied and no minutes of these meetings have survived. Those known to have contributed are Donald Buettner, Robert Burmeister, A. Theodore Hegmann, John Hufschmidt, Edward Korpay, William Murphy, A. Fattah Shaikh and Orton Spanley. There is a general consensus that Orton Spanley was the motivational leader and that he was the one who made the contacts with ACI International.

The agreements from these initial meetings were that the geographic boundaries of the chapter would be the entire state of Wisconsin, and that the objectives would be:

“To further engineering education and scientific investigation by organizing the efforts of its members for a non-profit, public service in gathering, correlating and disseminating information for the improvement of the design, construction, manufacture, use and maintenance of concrete products and structures. To these fields of scientific endeavor and engineering education its resources shall forever be devoted.”

On February 24, 1975, a petition was submitted to the American Concrete Institute Board of Directors under the provisions of Article VI, By-Laws of the ACI, as approved May 27, 1963 requesting the authorization to form a local chapter to be known as the Wisconsin Chapter.

This request was approved by the ACI Board November 5, 1975. The chapter elected Orton Spanley as the first president for 1975-76. The first significant activity of the new chapter was to offer Milwaukee as the site for the 1979 National Convention as a replacement for New Orleans, which had to withdraw. The invitation was accepted and under the leadership of Orton Spanley, Jack Isnard, Ed Korpady and Don Buettner as successive presidents, the newest local chapter hosted and conducted a well-planned national convention of the American Concrete Institute. For a fledgling organization to host a national event at such an early date in its existence which was so well applauded by all is a tribute to those who guided the chapter during the first four critical years.

In 1976, our Wisconsin Chapter was established and recognized by ACI International. The dynamic personality leading the effort was Orton Spanley, who served as the first President of ACI Wisconsin. He dedicated himself to the betterment of the concrete production and construction industries. Orton Spanley’s ideals and beliefs are mirrored in the Orton Spanley Award.

This award is made to individuals who have distinguished themselves through their achievements and contributions to the concrete industry in Wisconsin. The recipient selected will have demonstrated their service to the concrete industry through education, technical practice, scientific investigation, research and promotion.

It is awarded at our Annual Meeting and serves to honor this individual and their accomplishments. The ACI Wisconsin Chapter has many members who deserve local recognition for their achievements and contributions for the use of concrete in construction.

ACI Wisconsin Chapter Library

The ACI Wisconsin Chapter Library is located in the Raynor Memorial Libraries (http://www.marquette.edu/library/). The ACI Wisconsin Chapter Library is available to Chapter Members as a reference at the Marquette University Science Library.

One of the services provided to the ACI Wisconsin Chapter by ACI International is an opportunity to receive complimentary copies of new ACI publications for our Chapter Library and member use. Quantities vary, however ACI Wisconsin usually requests a copy of every publication offered. As new publications are added, existing and outdated publications are maintained for reference. Currently, the Library contains approximately 350 publications.

These valuable resources are housed in the Marquette University Science Library and can be accessed by all ACI Wisconsin members whenever the library is open. ACI Wisconsin members can register for a Marquette Library Courtesy Card with a photocopy of their ACI Wisconsin membership invoice/registration form, valid photo ID and a $1 card fee.

If you would like to utilize the ACI Wisconsin Library, it is essential that you make and keep a copy of your ACI Wisconsin membership invoice/registration form.

Your courtesy card is renewable annually. The courtesy card allows you to access both the Libraries at Marquette University, and to borrow materials for 28 days, renewable once. To locate the ACI publications, do a card catalog search with ACI as the author. An added bonus is the ability to borrow any material from the Marquette Library collection, not just ACI publications.

Information on the ACI Collection of reference materials at the Library can be found in the TA 4xx (Materials of Engineering & Construction) and the TA 6xx Structural Engineering call numbers based on the Library of Congress filing system.

Contact a Director of ACI Wisconsin can be contacted for additional assistance.

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE CATEGORIES LISTED AT THE BOTTOM OF THIS PAGE, A PERSON'S WISCONSIN CHAPTER MEMBERSHIP CATEGORY IS THE SAME AS THEIR ACI INTERNATIONAL MEMBERSHIP CATEGORY.

Individual Member – a person

Honorary Members – a person of eminence in the field of the Institute’s interest, or one who has performed extraordinary meritorious service to the Institute. An Honorary Member shall have the same rights and privileges as a Member, but shall not be subject to dues.

Fellow – a person who has made outstanding contributions to the production or use of concrete materials, products, and structures in the areas of education, research, development, design, construction, or management.

Organizational Member – a firm, corporation, society, agency of government, or other organization.

Sustaining Member – a person, firm, corporation, society, agency of government, or other organization electing to provide additional support for the activities and welfare of the Institute by payment of greater dues.

Junior Member – a person less than 28 years of age.

Student Member – a person 28 years of age or less and a registered full-time student at an educational institution.

Since ACI International charges less dues for Junior and Student Members, they can neither vote nor hold office. A person 28 years of age or less may be a regular member if they are willing to pay the full member dues.

Exempt Member – a member that has paid dues for 45 years and is now exempt from paying dues.

ADDITIONAL CATEGORIES PARTICULAR TO THE WISCONSIN CHAPTER FOR THOSE INDIVIDUALS THAT DO NOT HAVE MEMBERSHIP IN ACI INTERNATIONAL.

Distinguished Chapter Members – individuals, not current officers, who have made exceptional contributions in connection with the objectives of the Chapter and the Institute. They shall be selected by the Board of Directors of the Chapter and shall be exempt from Chapter dues but not Institute dues.

Affiliate Chapter Members – members of the Chapter only and not the Institute. Affiliate Members may not hold office within the Chapter, nor vote on propositions before the International membership.

Corporate Member – a firm, corporation, society, agency of government, or other organization that wishes to have multiple people join. A membership of $150 is for 6 members and $10 for each additional member. A list of names must be submitted.
On behalf of the American Concrete Institute (ACI), the Wisconsin Chapter – ACI, and the Wisconsin Convention Planning Committee, we invite you to join us at The Concrete Convention and Exposition, April 17-21, 2016, in Milwaukee, WI. The convention will be held at the Hyatt Regency & Wisconsin Center in downtown Milwaukee.

At the ACI Convention, you will have the opportunity to participate in the development of industry codes and standards, network with many of the world’s leading concrete professionals, and learn about the latest in concrete technology while fulfilling your continuing education requirements.

We have created an educational and technical program that will cover several angles of the convention theme, “Brewing Concrete.” Convention highlights include the Student FRC Bowling Ball Competition, the Opening Session and Reception, the International Lunch, Contractors’ Day sessions and lunch, and the Concrete Mixer.

We are thrilled to have the opportunity to bring the convention to Milwaukee, and look forward to your participation in this spring’s convention.

About the ACI Convention
The ACI Convention is dedicated to bringing together the leaders in the concrete industry. These individuals work to improve the design, construction, maintenance, and repair of concrete projects. Conventions provide a forum for networking and education and an opportunity to provide input on the concrete industry’s codes, specifications, and guides.

Committees meet to develop the standards, reports, and other documents necessary to keep up with the ever-changing world of concrete technology. Committee meetings are open to all registered convention attendees.

Technical and educational sessions provide attendees with the latest research, case studies, best practices, and the opportunity to earn Professional Development Hours (PDHs).

Additionally, the ACI Convention offers numerous networking events where you can expect to meet with many of the industry’s top engineers, architects, contractors, educators, manufacturers, and material representatives from around the world.

Fulfill Continuing Education Requirements

Attendees may earn Professional Development Hours (PDHs) for participating in sessions during the ACI Convention. A session attendance form to track attendance will be provided and may be submitted to state boards that allow self-reporting of continuing education activities as evidence of participation. In most cases, one nominal hour is equal to one PDH. (Note: New York does NOT allow self-reporting.) Check with your state board for acceptance criteria.

ACI Pavilion

ACI has many resources to offer convention attendees, and now they are all available in one central location! The ACI Pavilion will feature the Cyber Cafe and Career Center, as well as an information booth for ACI services such as ACI University and the ACI Foundation. Stop by the pavilion in the exhibit area to learn about all that ACI has to offer during the following hours:

ACI University

ACI is committed to the education of its members and customers. Stop by to learn about the current initiatives and programs offered to continue the growth and expertise of the industry.

ACI Foundation

The ACI Foundation receives, administers, and expends funds for educational, research, and scientific purposes to increase knowledge and understanding of concrete materials and to support programs that improve concrete design and construction.

Career Center

ACI’s online job search engine is specifically designed to target jobs in the concrete industry. Browse the job postings or post a new job right at the convention! Companies will also have a place to drop off flyers about current job openings.

Cyber Café

Several laptop computers will be available for attendees to use to browse the web, print on demand, and catch up on e-mail.

ACI’s Green Initiatives

It is ACI’s practice to reduce waste from convention meetings and events. Attendees have the option to elect to use the electronic version of the Program Book or download the convention app rather than receiving a hard copy at the convention. Look for this option when you register!

Stay Connected

ACI Online

www.aciconvention.org is now mobile-optimized, giving you access to the Meeting Schedule, My Schedule, Sessions, and Future Conventions from virtually anywhere.

ACI would like to thank the following exhibitors for their support of and participation in the ACI Convention. (Listed as of 12/18/15)

Not yet an exhibitor?
We would like to invite your organization to showcase your products and services during the ACI Convention. Exhibiting at the ACI Convention is a great opportunity to network with the leaders in the concrete industry.

ACI seeks to provide exhibitors with a venue and atmosphere that will maximize visibility and marketing potential. The exhibit area has been specially designed to include convention registration, the ACI Bookstore, free wireless Internet, an attendee lounge with Cyber Stations, and a place where attendees can meet between events to network and enjoy refreshments.

Booth rates are $2000 for a 10 x 10 ft (3 x 3 m) space and include up to four exhibitor registrations, giving you access to the exhibit area; convention sessions; committee meetings; networking events; and exposure in event publications, on the ACI website, and on signage during the convention.

Exhibitors will have the opportunity to give a product demonstration or presentation. Should you choose to participate, you will be allotted a time slot to give a presentation featuring a specific product or service of your company. This is a great way to gain company exposure and is an added benefit of exhibiting.
